

ALGER FOR PRESIDENT.

The withdrawal of Blaine from the Presidential contest must be regarded by everyone as final and unequivocal. No one who knows the man doubts his sincerity. It is useless now to discuss the question of the probable effect of his course. All may rest assured, however, that he was guided by what he considered the best interests of the party, and the APPEAL believes that he has always been so guided. The next thing is the selecting of another standard bearer. The APPEAL can conceive of no man against whom less objection could be raised than Governor Alger, of Michigan. His life has been a blameless one from his boyhood, and he is a person as honest and square as Lincoln in all his relations in life. He has grown to be a man worth nine millions of dollars, and in all his onward march to wealth he was never been accused of attempting to get the better of his neighbor. He is a man worships at home, because he made his millions by developing the country where he lived, and as he grew rich by industry and good business habits, thousands around him also bettered their condition in life because he was at the helm. He is a soldier, a statesman, and a patriot of such rare good manners and frank, open address, that he wins every man who meets him. He is a man of fine intellectual fibre, splendid courage of convictions, and the mud which generally falls in a campaign could never be thrown at him. He is like to the rich and the poor. The labor organizations would endorse him, as he has always paid royal wages to his employees, and he has scattered his wealth like water among the poor of his State.

It was nearly a year ago that the APPEAL mentioned Alger as a suitable candidate for the Presidency, and it now renews its plea for Governor Alger, the statesman, soldier and philanthropist, of Michigan.

The Dayton Enterprise.

Last Sunday the scow "Dayton" was launched on the Carson river at Dayton to begin the enterprise of dredging the Carson river to recover the millions of wasted amalgam which has been lost there from the mills during the last twenty years. Invitations to the launch were sent to every newspaper in the State, but the APPEAL the was only paper in Nevada that had the enterprise to send a representative there, (outside the Times, the local paper of Dayton.)

This indeed does not speak well for the press of this State. The enterprise inaugurated there is equivalent to the discovery of a new Comstock, as it involves from two to four hundred millions of dollars. It will begin a new era in Nevada mining, and materially add to the wealth and prosperity of the State. Curiously enough, although the subject has been talked of for years, there was no Nevada capitalist with nerve enough to try it, and the money which comes into the enterprise comes all the way from quiet Philadelphia.

There is something grimly humorous in the spectacle of our Chamber of Commerce and Boards of Trade, Supervisors and Health, united to ask the Federal Government to give San Francisco the use of one of the islands in the bay at quarantine station. The humor comes in, when we remember that our merchants—many of them still members of the Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce—moved heaven and earth sixteen years ago to prevent the Government from letting a railroad company have the use of one of the bay island for the purpose of establishing on it wheat warehouses and wharves for San Francisco's benefit.—Daily Report.

A sack of ore was stolen from the Pamlico mine in Hawthorne district last week, which is likely to create a sensation in Esmeralda county when the facts are made public. The alleged stolen ore was specimens incriminated with gold.
